

WHITMER & WORRALL

1401 H Street, NW
Suite #1075
Washington, D.C. 20005

Whitmer & Worrall Names Angela Acampora Managing Director

Washington, D.C. – February 10, 2021 – Whitmer & Worrall today announced that Angela Acampora has been promoted to Managing Director.

In her new role, Angela will oversee the firm’s client servicing initiatives, operations and business development strategy, with a special focus on health care.

“We are dedicated to developing our team, who are critical to our success, and it’s very gratifying to see them progress in their careers,” said partner Martin Whitmer. “Angela has been delivering strategic advice to clients for six years and is an excellent addition to our senior leadership team.”

Tom Worrall added “Angela’s health policy background is entirely in line with our firm’s strategic objectives. As the newest senior member of our team, Angela will utilize her unique expertise and skillset to address the complex challenges our clients face in Washington.”

Prior to joining Whitmer & Worrall, Angela served as an advisor in legal recruiting and professional development at White & Case, a global law firm. In addition to her policy background, Angela will complete her Master’s in Public Administration in Health Policy at the nationally-ranked American University School of Public Affairs. She received her Bachelor’s degree in Political Science from Furman University.

About Whitmer & Worrall

Whitmer & Worrall is a bipartisan strategic consulting and government relations firm headquartered in Washington, D.C. The firm has a successful sixteen-year record in affecting policy and providing appropriations, business development services and regulatory expertise for clients across the country. Bloomberg named Whitmer & Worrall as one of the nation’s “top-performing” government relations firms of 2019, based on extensive performance criteria, including the firm’s client retention rate.